County Service Organization

BEING RENEWED OWING TO THE KOREAN CONFLICT

With the reactivation of the Selective Service Act last summer following the Korean conflict, Charlevoix county has again been called upon to send its youth to the armed services.

Members of the Charlevoix Service Organization which was reactivated at the same time, felt that these men should not be sent from the community without some action to make this involuntary service a little more pleasant and indicate that the people of the county appreciate the services of these young men to their country.

Since Sept. 27th a total of 23 Charlevoix county men have been inducted into the armed services and five will leave in December. Every man who has left since that date has been presented with a small gift package containing candy, gum, cigarettes, postcards and magazines. The candy has been donated by a Charlevoix candy shop and the remainder of the cost taken care of personally by a member of the C. S. O.

During World War II an account known as the C. S. O. Fund was opened at the Charlevoix County State Bank. From this fund men were given send-off parcels, Christmas packages and greetings, transportations to their homes elsewhere in the county and lodgings when needed.

The account has again been opened and persons are being asked to contribute to it. The C. S. O. hesitates to conduct a drive at this time for at the presen their nee's are small. However, as the Selective Service Act expands, as it most certainly will, in the near future, a meeting will be called to decide what is necessary.

An appeal for voluntary contributions is being made throughout the county.

The C. S. O. committee composed of local residents who have volunteered to handle the job is asking everyone to consider the above appeal and contribute to this worthy cause to assure every man leaving the county the grateful thanks of its citizens.

Howard E. Ruckle Born at Ellsworth Died at Bellaire

Howard Edward Ruckle was born August 21, 1919, at Ellsworth, Mch., and died November 22, 1950, at Bellaire, Mich. He was the son of Alvin and Violet Ruckle. His mother preceeded him in death by a little over one year. His father is a patient at the Veteran's Hospital, Fort Custer.

Howard suffered most of his life with heart trouble, but in spite of his affliction was a very active member of the United Missionary Church during the past four years.

He is survived by two brothers and a sister: Henry of Perry, Harold and Lulu Mae of East Jordan. However, Lula Mae plans to make her home with her brother, Henry, of Route 2, Perry, Mich.

Funeral services were conducted from the United Missionary Church, East Jordan, Nov. 25th. The pastor, C. W. Thompson, officiated. The funeral director was C. A. Hastings of Ellsworth. Bearers were: Archie Bennett, Harold Moore, Harry Slate and Harry Slate. Interment at Sunset Hill.

Hundreds of children and adults have been killed each year during December because they forgot to wear a piece of white clothing while walking along streets and highways after dark. Since days get shorter during December, and darkness limits drivers' eyes earlier, Automobile Club of Michigan has erected 10,100 of the above posters in Michigan classrooms. In order to further teach this safety subject, Michigan teachers have been provided with 29,000 "Wear White After Dark" lesson sheets for classroom use.

These Hunters May Stalk Deer Ten Days More

Following the close of the general deer season November 30, the conservation department says up to 21,800 hunters will be able to stalk deer in the special western Michigan season.

December 1-5, eligible hunters can take deer of either sex in parts of Charlevoix, Antrim, Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Benzie and Manistee counties. December 1-10, other qualified hunters can bag anterless deer only, in Allegan and part of Newaygo county.

The department's law enforcement division cautions permit holders that the cards are valid providing they have a general season license and have not already shot a deer.

The state legislature authorized the first special season to help reduce farm and fruit crop damage last year.

Permit holders were able to pick up an outline of legal hunting areas at the time they secured their original applications from license dealers.

Marriages

Bennett — Olson

Ingwald Olson and Leta Bennett were united in marriage at 11:00 a. m., Nov. 29th, in East Jordan by the Rev. C. W. Thompson, pastor of the United Missionary Church. They are exepected to make their home in East Jordan after spending a few days on a trip to points south.

Suleeba — Kesterson

Miriam Martha Suleeba, daughter of Mrs. Thomas S. Suleeba of Prospect Ave., Grand Rapids, became the bride of Max. M. Kesterson, Lake Dr., Grand Rapids, in an informal ceremony Tuesday at the home of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Grace R. Kesterson of Sherman St..

Miss Suleeba and Mr. Kesterson, attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Worm, were united in marriage by Rev. Frederick Wyngarden, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Jas. Gidley and has made many visits in the city.

Thanksgiving Boxes Cheer Grandvue Patients

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 22, a group of Auxiliary members met at the Legion Home and prepared enough boxes filled with fruit, homemade candy, cookies and cupcakes donated by Auxiliary members, to be given to every patient at Grandview hospital. The boxes were attractively decorated in the Legion colors, blue and gold. The boxes were then delivered, but as it was so late and most of the patients had retired for the night, they were left to be distributed to everyone Thanksgiving morning by the nurses.

These special treats were very much appreciated by the shut-ins at the hospital. East Jordan American Legion Auxiliary Unit 227 hopes to make this an annual service. A lot of these old folks at the hospital are alone in the world and it helps them bear the long hours if they know they are not completely forgotten and still have friends and people are concerned about their welfare. It also gives Thanksgiving Day a deeper meaning to share a little of the good things of life with people who are less fortunate and have grown old or are physically unable to live full productive lives.

Attention Oddfellows

The Jordan River Lodge I. O. O. F. will meet Friday evening, Dec. 1st. Election of officers. Pot luck lunch after the meeting.

SHORTS

Less sunshine in the winter months makes it important that your family obtain vitamin D from other sources such as irradiated milk, cereals, fish liver oils or concentrates of these oils.

Line the bottom of your oven with aluminum foil before cooking a juicy dish of any kind. The foil will catch the drippings and save your oven and lots of hard work.

Keep a pair of scissors in your kitchen utensil drawer. They make quick work of dicing celery, chives, peppers and other vegetables. They also trim pastry well, advise Michigan State College home economists.

4H CLUB NEWS

Fourteen Club Members In A House Trailer

So you think your house isn't big enough for a 4-H club. According to Mrs. June Hammond of Grand Rapids, you can have a lot of fun with a 4-H sewing club of fourteen members even if you have to meet in a house trailer. Mrs. June Hammond is the former June Blanshan of Boyne City. For years she carried a 4-H club clothing project. In a recent letter, she stated she is leading a club of fourteen beginners who are between the ages of 10 and 13. They meet on Tuesday evenings, sew a little, play games and have lunch. In addition to leading the 4-H club, Mrs. Hammond holds down a full time job as cashier in a grocery store and is the mother of one small child. June writes that she is grateful to the people in Boyne City who helped her in 4-H club work and feels now she should help others.

She is limited in facilities but plenty high in will power.

Two sewing groups and a baking group have been formed in the Eveline Orchards community. The first to report a sewing organization was Mrs. Jessie Brock. Her members are Sharon Brock, Bonnie Snyder, Wendy Knudsen and Rhea Zitka.

The 4-H Club Agent has been searching the past few days for a good quality, registered Holstein heifer. This animal will be awarded Dec. 5 to the most deserving 4-H dairy member in Emmet county. The animal is being sponsored by the Emmet county dairy council. Funds for the purchase of the animal were contributed by farm organizations in the county. The occasion of the presentation will be the second annual Emmet county dairy banquet to be held at the Harbor Springs Gym. Announcements of the winner of the calf will be made at the banquet.

"If I don't go to Flint after Thanksgiving, I will be happy to lead a group of boys in handicraft club work", says Donald Mort. Don is the communities choich as a handicraft leader, but he thinks he might take work down below which would make it impossible for him to lead. Mrs. Addison Chew informs me she will help the girls with sewing in the Loeb community. She says she is no expert but will be willing to help. A meeting will be called of the youth in that community early in December.

According to the latest report, Ed Rebman, your county agent, has no buck. I suggest you deer hunters save him just a small piece of yours.

Mrs. Hazel Beebe, 4-H Club leader is rather proud of the progress being made on her new home. The neighbors have had several "bees" helping to erect the home. When she has a home of her own she will have more room for her 4-H club meetings. Mrs. Beebe led the food preparation club of the Maple Grove community last summer.

K. C. Festerling,
Dist. 4-H Club Agent.

Social Security Now Affects Farm With Hired Help

Every farmer with hired help, and farm and other agricultural workers should become familiar with the new amendment to the Social Security program as soon as possible, advises E. B. Hill, agricultural economist at Michigan State College. Social security for farm workers will be effective January 1, 1951.

Here in brief are some of the important provisions listed by Hill:

"Regular" farm workers are covered — farm operators and their families aren't, with the exception of children over 21. A regular farm worker is one who works three months during one calendar quarter for one farm operator and who works at least 60 days and earns at least $50 cash in the succeeding 3-month period for the same farmer. Non-cash "wages" such as room, board or farm products cannot be counted.

The 3-month periods begin in January, April, July or October. Workers may use the last quarter of 1950 to qualify. They pay no tax during the quarter in which they qualify.

Household workers on farms are considered farm workers. Wages paid by a farmer to his children under 21 do not count toward social security. Neither do wages paid by a husband to his wife, by a wife to her husband, or by sons and daughters to parents.

The farm worker should get a social security card from the nearest social security office if he does not already have a card.

What must the farm operator do?

Hill emphasizes that the program is compulsory and the operator will be held responsible for the collection and remission of the tax.

The farm operator should get the proper forms from the United State Collector of Internal Revenue. He fills in the name and social security number of his hired worker, number of days worked, and amount of cash wages paid the worker in that quarter. At the end of each quarter the employer sends this reports to the Collector of Internal Revenue along with the social security tax.

The tax is 3 percent through 1953—1½ percent is deducted from the worker's wges and 1½ percent is contributed by the farm operator. It will pay farmers with hired help to keep an accurate record of days worked, wages paid and taxes deducted.

Further details about how the social security program affects you can be obtained from your nearest social security office.

Sheltered Place Is Best For Bird Feeding Station

Decide on a sheltered spot, safe from pouncing cats and strong winds, if you want birds to come to your winter feeding station, Dr. George M. Sutton, associate professor of zoology at the University of Michigan, advises.

No special equipment is needed for such a counter, the University professor pointed out. In selecting the spot for placing the food, a partial roof or awning above the window is a good thing, though not absolutely essential, Dr. Sutton said.

People who want to attract birds to the feeding station should take advantage of the snowfalls. Many birds will come to the feeding counter when they must take shelter from storm. Michigan birds have perfectly adequate feather covering and if they have food, they are safe, Dr. Sutton said. But wait for that first heavy snow fall. In just a couple of days, the birds will develop a habit of coming to your feeding station.

Discussing the favorite food items, Dr. Sutton noted that many birds are very fond of sunflower seeds. Bird lovers can usually make arrangements with a farmer to save complete sunflower heads for them. These are then strung up for the birds and are a great favorite with downy and hairy woodpeckers, chickadees anr tufted titmouse. The cardinal likes this food, too, but for this bird the seed should be placed on the ground, as he dislikes flying up to get it.

Other foods which will attract the birds are cracked nuts, hickory nuts, peanuts and black walnuts, and of course, the lump of suet tacket to the trunk of a tree or placed in a container of kitchen wire through which the birds can peck.

One of the prettiest birds you can have as a "guest" during the winter is the evening grosbeak, a black-white-olive green and yellow bird about the size of a robin, Dr. Sutton said. Bobwhites may be seen at winter feeding stations occasionally.

The brown creeper, a small defenseless brown, grey and white bird with slend curved bill, will often slip in when the other birds have finished and will stay as long as the others will let him. The titmouse and chickadee may get bold enough to eat out of your hand, Dr. Sutton said.

SHORT STORY

Detective Peters

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

ORION DIDN'T look like a detective. He realized this for a fact when the girl with the chestnut brown hair came up and spoke to him.

"You're Orion Peters, aren't you? Mrs. Keith told me. I'm June Ingalls. It's going to be a gorgeous wedding, don't you think? Have you seen the swimming pool yet?"

3-Minute Fiction

Orion knew at once because of her easy informality she had mistaken him for one of the guests. And suddenly he decided to go on with the game.

"Hello," he said cheerfully. "It's nice to see you again. No, I haven't seen the pool. Is it new? Shall we go look at it together?"

They went and looked at it. In fact they swam in it.

They stayed near the pool for almost two hours. At the end of that time Orion came to two decisions. First, he decided that the girl was the loveliest, most beautiful creature he'd ever known. Second, he decided he was a fool. At first this business of pretending to be a guest smacked of a lark. Now it was different. He was falling in love.

He went back to his room and changed into his tux. He'd have to go down and keep his eyes on things and avoid June Ingalls, if he could.

He took up a station within observation distance of the table where the gifts were placed and acted as much like a guest as he knew how. June was not among the crowd that milled around the living room. He was convincing nimself that he was glad of this, when a feminine voice behind him said:

"Why, Mr. Peters, you're standing here like a statue. I mean, shouldn't we dance, or something?"

"I'm dreadfully sorry," he said. "I hurt my ankle in the pool this afternoon. I'm afraid dancing's out, for me."

"Oh, how wretched! Is there anything I can do? I mean, oughtn't you to see a doctor, or something?"

JUST THEN Orion's desperate glance fell on the table where lay the gifts. There was a man standing at one end talking to a woman. The woman had a fan, which she maneuvered skillfully. Behind its ruffled folds the man to whom she was talking suddenly darted out a hand, scooped up something on the table, and thrust it beneath the tails of his coat.

Orion came back to earth with a jolt. He started toward the man, who was moving through the crowd toward the terrace door. He caught up with the fellow just as they got outside and fell into step beside him.

"All right," said Orion when they reached the end of the terrace,

Orion decided that the girl was the loveliest, most beautiful creature he'd ever known.

"Take it easy and you won't get hurt. You're under arrest."

The man looked at him quickly. Orion didn't have time to lift his arms in defense. Something struck him a terrible blow on the head. He swayed, caught himself, glimpsed the thief racing down the steps.

Orion anticipated the direction of the man he was chasing by leaping the fish pond and making a flying tackle at the fellow's legs. They went down in a heap.

When he opened his eyes there was a crowd of people around. He heard snatches of conversation and guessed that the thief had been captured and everybody thought that he, Orion, was quite a hero. Then he knew that his head was pillowed on something soft. He saw a face bending over him.

"Well, that settles it, I guess," he grinned. "Now you know. But I'm not really a detective. I go to law school nights and detect days and week-ends."

"It doesn't make a particle of difference," June told him. "I'm Mrs. Keith's secretary. She asked me to see that you were looked out for. Can I help it if you thought I was a guest? And now that you know the truth, I suppose you don't like me any more?"

"Suppose," said Orion, "you let me ask a question."

She agreed and he asked it and she blushed as she said, "yes."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Foreign Policy May Be Big Issue When the 82nd Congress Convenes; Slight Advance Made in N. Korea

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

G.O.P. VICTORY:

The Battle Is Underway

The echo of the G.O.P. victory in the November national election had not subsided before another voice was heard on the national scene. It was a Republican chorus of "fire Acheson" and a hint of congressional reorganization. The battle began for greater G.O.P. power in the coming session of congress.

On the domestic scene, Republican leaders opened fire on what they called the "grave inflationary situation". This was not believed to mean price controls for the benefit of the American housewife, however.

Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, fresh from a reelection victory, said: "It is a national tragedy the way prices of military items have been allowed to leap since the Korean conflict started." Controls were expected to be along this line.

There were indications also that a new investigation of Communist influences in government would be launched by Republicans when the next congress convened.

Notice was also served on the Democrats that Republicans will insist upon advance consultation on foreign policy steps.

And Sen. Robert A. Taft, now the acknowledged "big-wig" of the Republican party, made it clear he would like to hang Acheson's scalp to his belt when he stated: "I haven't the slightest confidence in Acheson's judgment."

To most observers it was clear the Republican party had launched an all-out campaign for control of the U.S. government. The final battle will be fought with the ballot box in 1952.

KOREA:

The Battle Continues

While the world speculated about China's ultimate aims in Korea, the battle continued.

Reports from the scene were confused. Military observers estimated as many as 90,000 Chinese Communists fighting in North Korea, but said United Nations forces continued slow advances behind smashing air attacks.

Meanwhile, a Chinese delegation was invited to the United Nations to hear the charge of aggression in North Korea lodged against them by the United States.

Many observers believed they had found the one main reason for China's action in North Korea. It centered around the great North Korean power plants along the Manchurian-Korean Yalu river boundary.

The Chinese Reds apparently were willing to fight to protect them. The reason being that the mighty hydro-electric plants strung across the neck of North Korea produced 2,681,180 of Korea's 3,132,727 kilowatt hours. An undetermined amount of that power going into Manchuria, the great center of China's heavy industry.

With this in mind, Chinese forces plunged into North Korea and forced United Nations troops to withdraw from the area. Since the Chinese have constructed a "Maginot Line" below the vital plants and will put up a determined defense when U. N. forces reach the area again.

Mao Tze-tung does not want that power shut off. Although the Russians looted much Manchurian productive equipment during their post-war occupation, what is left is China's chief hope for industrialization. And the Communist party line says industrialization is the answer to China's historic poverty.

Greatest Upset

Vincent Impellitteri (right) scored the greatest upset of the recent election. He was turned down by the Democrats as a candidate for the mayor of New York. He ran on his own, defeating Democrats, Republicans and Independents.

Headliners

Sen. Robert A. Taft has held several press conferences since his astonishing election victory. On one occasion he said, "Only an idiot would be an isolationist today," This was in reply to the label so often applied to him. On another occasion he said, "Unquestionably some of this sacrifice is necessary to protect us against the real threat of Soviet aggression. But the facts ought to be clearly brought before the people, and they must be satisfied in their own minds that the sacrifice is essential. If they are convinced by fair arguments, they will make any sacrifice to assure the freedom of America."

The long awaited message from Tibet, appealing to the U. N. to rescue her from Chinese Communist invaders arrived at Lake Success. It said in part: "Tibet will not go down without a fight, though there is little hope of a nation dedicated to peace resisting the brutal efforts of men trained to war." That quotation seems to express the view of world history today.

CRIME:

Dwarfs the 20's

To those who remember the "roaring twenties" and such gangs as the Capone boys, Senator Kefauver, chairman of the senate committee investigating crime, made a shocking announcement.

The senator said that "organized crime in the country today would make kindergarten play out of the operations of the Capone boys" and that the influence of crime on public official is "very sinister and very great."

He went so far as to say that his committee had the facts to prove that well-organized and "tough" groups of criminals are operating throughout the country with "interlocking ownership between all groups."

He said the racketeers are corrupting public officials and law enforcement officers, and are putting their money into "so-called legitimate businesses" in which they use racketeering methods.

Kefauver's reasons for the continued prosperity of crime agreed with those of most observers: Local public indifference to stopping the rackets.

Kefauver's nation-wide study is aimed at strengthening federal laws to block the way for organized crime. Such laws would include interstate ban on the shipment of gambling devices, more control over the wire services, strengthening of the postal laws, and amendments to the internal revenue laws which would "require real bookkeeping."

Gamblers and racketeers now cheat the United States out of hundreds of millions of dollars a year in taxes.

CORN BELT:

Rural Vote Counts

Leaders of both major parties have spent considerable time since the election trying to read the future from the election results. One obvious conclusion was drawn. The major battle ground for the 1952 election will be in the midwest corn belt.

As most voters remember, Truman won the 1948 election because three Midwest states jumped from their traditional G.O.P. column to the Democrat side. They were Ohio, Illinois and Iowa. Had any two of these states voted for Dewey in 1948, he would have been elected.

In the recent election, however, the rural vote returned to the Republican ledger. Two factors may have influenced the switch in the farm voting: a tendency for farmers to return to their traditional Republicanism when times are good and to vote Democratic only when their prices and incomes are declining, and, apparent dissatisfaction with foreign policies of the administration.

For these reasons the farmers of the Midwest will find themselves the target of both Republican and Democratic candidates in 1952. The Republicans will attempt to increase their gains and the Democrats can be expected to launch a full-scale attack to retake command. It might even be said that the farmers of the midwest will elect the next president of the United States.

FOREIGN AID:

Extension Proposed

A vast extension of America's foreign aid program was proposed by President Truman and the question will undoubtedly be subject to hot debate in congress.

Urgent recommendations for lengthening the period of Marshall type aid to western Europe stood high on the list. The area was termed as this country's "most critical area" in a security sense.

The declared immediate objectives of the new program are to promote adequate western rearmament, bulwark southern Asia and the Middle East especially against Communist aggression, and expand production of strategic raw materials throughout the non-Communist world. The program would entail an indicated several billion dollars a year.

Just what attitude the new congress will take concerning the problem is still a question in the minds of most observers.

One thing can be sure, the new congress will be one of the most unpredictable in a number of years. The balance of control is so narrow anything might happen. The issue of more money for Europe and Asia will face bitter debate.

TAFT:

The Next President?

If the Republican national convention were scheduled for today, there is little doubt but that Robert Taft of Ohio would get the G.O.P.'s nomination for president. The question remains, can he get it in 1952?

A recent nation-wide survey of Republican state chairmen showed Taft an overwhelming choice, with Earl Warren of California and James Duff of Pennsylvania second and third in that order.

Democrats and labor's political chiefs have tagged him the man to beat. The senator beat them both by 430,000 votes—the biggest plurality of his career.

Taft is reported to have said he was not a candidate for the presidency right now, but he indicated he could be influenced.

"I don't say that I wouldn't take the nomination if it were offered to me," he said, "but I shall make no campaign to get it."

Ray Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman, summed up the opinion of most Republican leaders throughout the country: "If Senator Taft is interested, he would in my opinion be the logical person for the Republican nomination in 1952. He took the issues to the voters in Ohio this year and won. That is the type of aggressive campaigning we need in 1952."

At the present time only one man could beat Taft out of the nomination—Eisenhower, and he is not available.

Career Woman

For the first time in history a woman has been named to a post of authority over the army, navy and air force. She is Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, government career woman, who was named by Defense Secretary George C. Marshall as assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower and personnel problems in the armed forces.

BUSINESSMEN:

To Fight Profit Levy

A group of more than 100 businessmen announced they had formed a committee to fight against an excess profits tax.

They based their campaign on the idea that such a tax is inequitable, inflationary, destructive and dangerous.

The businessmen, however, did not have the gall to stand on that announcement alone. They tempered their campaign with, "Business profits must bear their fair share of increased taxation."

One of the committee members said: "The excess profits tax is a very harmful and dangerous tax, in spite of its superficial plausibility. It is inequitable and inflationary."

The businessmen were worried because congress convened November 27 with consideration of an excess-profits tax the chief item on its agenda. Before it quit in September it instructed the house ways and means and the senate finance committees to have proposals for such a levy ready for consideration.

RUSSIA:

Meeting Rejected

For some time the Soviet Union has been waging a false peace campaign. One of the latest moves was a demand for a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany.

British Foreign Secretary Bevin firmly rejected the demand. Inasmuch as the allies are in close consultation on their replies to Russia's demand. Bevin's statement left no doubt that the answer will be a unanimous "no".

CROP REPORT

Farmers Assured of Fourth Largest Crop

October weather assured farmers of their fourth largest recorded crop output and gave them a fine start on perhaps a record volume in 1951, the agriculture department reported.

The department said this year's crop volume—topped by a bumper corn crop of much better quality than had been anticipated—would nearly equal the average of the last five big years and be surpassed only by yields in 1946, 1948, and 1949.

The corn crop was estimated at 3,105,000,000 bushels or about 13 million less than was forecast in the previous report.

The department of agriculture said conditions were virtually ideal for maturing and harvesting this year's crop in most parts of the country.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

I Have A "Close Squeak"!

Spent last Saturday morning wandering all over the house. Wherever I went—upstairs or down—I kept hearing a "squeak." Couldn't find out where it was coming from until noon-time when the missus came home from her weekly shopping.

"Listen," I says to her, "hear that squeak?" I started walking real quiet-like across the kitchen and there it went again! "Joe Marsh," she laughs, "that is nothing but your suspender clips rubbing back and forth when you walk!" And darned if it wasn't!

From where I sit, I'd been letting a little thing become a serious problem. Like some little difference of opinion or taste will start off a great big argument. I may prefer a temperate glass of beer with my dinner—while the missus likes tea—but we figure that no two people have exactly the same likes and dislikes. So, why get all "het up" about it?

The moral is, check your suspenders—and check your temper when it comes to little things.

Stewardship of Life

Lesson for December 3, 1950

"WHAT'S the death rate here?" asked the stranger. "Same as everywhere," retorted the native son,—"one to a person." Only one to a person, because there is only one life to a person. If you had nine lives or even two, you might afford to waste one (though it's doubtful). But with only one life you simply cannot afford to waste it. Of course you do waste it, in thousands of little ways; and some of these cannot be helped. But if a faucet leaks, that's no excuse for turning the water on full blast.

Dr. Foreman

God Wants You

WITH all due respects to the arrangers of these lessons, the lesson for last week and this one seem to be in the reverse order from what is logical. It is very doubtful whether any one ever understood stewardship of money who did not understand stewardship of life first. Now in almost any church you may hear people singing,

"Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all."

Very good; wonderful. Surely these are a devoted brotherhood! But wait, what is this coming down the aisle? A man with a collection plate! Now we shall see . . . There's a man putting in a quarter, and there's a prosperous-looking lady laying out a five dollar bill. (She bought a $50 cat last week.) But who is putting in his soul, his life, his all? Oh well, they didn't mean what they sang. But isn't it more than half hypocritical to sing one way and "give" another?

The whole realm of nature is not yours to give; but you do have a life; and God wants it. More than he wants what we have, he wants what we are. God created you; God redeemed you; as Paul says, "You are not your own, you were bought with a price."

Not for Preachers Only

A COMMON mistake is to think that a Christian has a choice between being a preacher and not being one. If he decides to give his life to God then he will be a preacher; otherwise he keeps his life for himself.

This is absurd, when you think about it. God has the first claim on every man's life. To be a Christian is to recognize this claim. He has not a bit more claim on the preacher or the missionary than he has on the grocer or the farmer's wife. Stewardship of life means recognizing God's right, it means living your life in partnership with God,

"Who sweeps a room as to Thy laws Makes that and the action fine," sang a poet long ago. God certainly does not want all his children to be preachers. But he does want his children to live AS his children; and that means stewardship of life.

* * *

Stewardship of Time

PICKING up again a thought from last week: Time is the raw material of life. Stewardship of life means stewardship of time. It means spending each day as if God had personally said to you: "Here are 24 fresh, new, unused hours. I shall want them back. You cannot keep them. I shall look at them to see what you have done with them."

What do you do with your time? Does it count for God or against him? And yet — how many Christians there are who if asked to do some kind thing, some simple act of mercy or friendliness, something to help some one else, something that may cost them a little trouble, —how many will say, "Sorry, I'm busy, haven't the time!"

Gift Without the Giver is Bare

JUST put together four sentences from the four sections of the Scripture for this week, and you have the whole business of stewardship of life in a nutshell: "Having gifts, let us use them." "First they gave themselves to the Lord." "Honor such men." "My God will supply every need of yours." No one ever used for God in the service of man any gift which God did not more than repay. The gift without the giver is bare— and so is the giver. But giver and gift, devoted in love to God and man, are rich indeed.

WHOLESALE MURDER

Youth Says He Set Fires

COLUMBUS, O.—Police officers could not believe the incredible story of husky Robert Dale Segree, 20-year-old circus roustabout. He insisted he had committed four murders and set numerous fires, including the Ringling Brothers circus fire at Hartford that took 168 lives.

Ohio fire marshal Harry J. Callan said Segree had signed a statement admitting the circus fire, four slayings "by his own hands", and more than a score of major fires in Ohio, New Hampshire and Maine.

After checking his story police were inclined to believe he was telling the truth.

The fire marshal said Segree admitted beating to death 9-year-old Barbara Driscoll of Portsmouth, N. H., on a river bank on Sept. 5, 1938. His weapon was a rock.

Segree's long statement, obtained after days of questioning, told a wierd story of a nightmare Indian riding a flaming horse. Prosecutor Guy B. Cline of Pickaway county recited the story this way:

The Indian appeared to Segree at night, urging him to set fires. Segree's mind then went blank. When his mind cleared, a fire had been set. At this point, the phantom rider dismounted, taunted and sneered at Segree so that he ran from the scene.

Mr. Callan said Segree identified his other murder victims as a watchman who caught him setting fire to a warehouse in Portland, Me., on March 16, 1943; a boy about 12 or 13 years old on a beach at Cape Cottage, Me., about 1943, and a boy in Japan while Segree was a member of the Army of occupation in 1949.

Mr. Callan said Segree enlisted in the army in 1948 for three years but was released a year later upon advice of the medical service.

The fire marshal declined to make public details of Segree's confession. He said the youth definitely worked for the circus from June 30 to July 13, 1944. The official said during that time there were two small circus fires before the fatal one July 6.

James A. Haley, Ringling president at the time of the tragedy, and George Smith, then the general manager, served prison terms in connection with the fire. The circus paid off more than $2,000,000 in damage claims.

"Segree admits to setting between twenty-five and thirty major fires in Portland, Me., from the latter part of 1939 until May of 1946 when he moved to Ohio," Mr Callan said.

"When the family moved from Columbus to Adelphi, Ohio, in 1947, a series of small fires in alleys broke out in Circleville nearby. Segree admits setting these fires.

"He also admits setting innumerable small fires in Portland, Columbus and Circleville."

Ohio officials said investigators first learned of Segree while questioning William Graham, 23, of Circleville, sent to the Ohio state hospital for the criminal insane in connection with a fire at a granary in Williamsport.

British Newspaperman Deserts to Communists

BERLIN, Germany—A British newspaperman has asked and received asylum in Communist east Germany because he no longer could serve "western warmongers."

The man, John Peet, 34, London, was chief of the British Reuters news agency in Berlin.

Peet said he had been given a job by the east German press ministry. It is headed by Gerhart Eisler, former American Communist leader who skipped bail in the United States and became propaganda chief of east Germany.

Peet's decision to change camps was startling in that he had handled many Reuter dispatches in recent months and none of them had been colored with Communist propaganda, according to his superiors.

In announcing his decision to change camps, he said: "We have all become, at least in part, instruments of the American guided war machine. As an English patriot and friend of peace I can stand that no longer."

Houston Television Fans See Man Commit Suicide

HOUSTON, Tex. — Stanford B. Twente committed suicide while a Texas league baseball game was being televised to Houston and area residents.

Fans who were watching the game heard a shot and a second later the camera focused on Twente's slumped body.

Justice of the Peace Tom Maes was among those watching the game on television. He returned an inquest verdict of suicide without leaving his home.

Twente died in a hospital about two hours after the shooting.

At the start of the last half of the sixth inning, Twente appeared at the television booth and told the announcer, "I got something to tell you."

The announcer waved the man away and continued narrating the game. Twente was seated between the anouncer and the engineer. He suddenly pulled out a pistol and shot himself, falling across the engineer.

Gifts:

Two books from Mrs. John Porter: Comes the Comrade by Orme. A personal narrative written by a Polish woman who was married to a Hungarian aristocrat. At first Lida had welcomed the Russians as liberators but it soon was apparent that their ideas of liberation were not hers and she devoted her time to the task of keeping one step ahead of them. A story of high courage and resourcefulness. The second book is a Rohmer mystery.

New Books:

Grandma Did It This Way — Peat: Small episodes sparkling with humor give a clear picture of a childhood spent on a northern Ireland farm with a Victorian Grandmother.

Mr. Jones, Meet the Master — Marshall: These are unusual sermons and prayers of the late chaplain of the Senate. The sermons were preached in a New York church and the prayers were offered in the U. S. Senate.

Murder In A Hurry — Lockridge.

Young People's Book of Atomic Energy: Written for adults as well as for young people. A subject of great interest because of the influence of atomic energy on world peace.

Yule Trees Can Increase Fire Hazard

That Christmas tree you are planning to set up in your home could be a major fire hazard unless you take a few precautions, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns.

Tests made by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., demonstrated the Christmas trees of average size are easily ignited and burn furiously. The blaze could easily start a dangerous fire in the home.

Engineers of the National Board offer the following suggestions for making your Christmas tree safe:

1. Choose a small tree. It will be less hazardous.
2. Wait until a few days before Christmas to set up your tree.
3. Keep the tree outdoors until ready to set it up.
4. Place the tree n the coolest part of the house.
5. If a radiator is near the tree, shut it off.
6. Do not use cotton or paper decorations unless they are flameproofed.
7. Do not place electric trains around the tree.
8. Do not use candles. Use electric lights instead.
9. Make certain wires are not frayed. Choose lighting sets bearing marking which indicates listing by Underwriters' Laboratories', Inc.
10. Do not plug or unplug the lights beneath the tree.
11. Do not leave the tree lights burning when no one is in the house.
12. If needles near the lights turn brown, change the location of the lights.
13. When needles start falling take the tree down and discard it.

CHRISTMAS CARDS MAY BE HOMEMADE

If you have decided to make your own Christmas cards this year, it's time to start working on them. Barbara Hammill, Michigan State College home economist, has some suggestions to help you do a good job.

You may find these same suggestions valuable in helping you choose cards that have been made commercially.

Selecting a simple design is important. It should not be a realistic design. In other words, choose something that gives the impression or form of Santa Claus a deer or a Christmas tree, but don't include all the detail of the real object. The extra special reception your homemade cards get will repay your hard work.

Paper for homemade Christmas cards should be of a smooth texture because rough paper is harder to work on with paint or ink.

Choose a size which will be right for the design. If the card is too small, the design will look too bulky. If it is too large, the design will look lost. The paper should not be too bright or loud in color or it will detract from the attractiveness of the design.

It is better to use a greeting on the inside of the card which will carry out the idea or impression for the entire card. Consider the spacing and proportion of the letters. Simple easily read messages are in good taste.

If your name is printed or written on the card it should be centered under the greeting.

LEGION BINGO

Every Friday night, 8:00 p. m., at our new home. 20 games. 1st card 50c, each additional card 10c. 5 special games 10c each. Pot of Gold for the final. adv. 25 tf.

"At last," groaned the elderly diner, "total paralysis of the left leg! I've feared it for years."

"If it will relieve your mind any," whispered the sweet and more or less demure young thing on his left, "it's my leg you've been feeling."

I shouldn't be offering you wine should I? You are the head of the Temperance League, aren't you? remarked the hostess to her male guest.

Oh, no, I am the head of the Anti-Vice League.

Well, I knew there was something I shouldn't offer you.

He had been to a stag party and his wife wanted to hear all about it.

"Well, one rather odd thing happened. One guy got up and left because someone told a risque story."

"How noble!" said the wife. "What was the story?"

The plain, prim little old lady who stood beside a male customer at a department store counter was nervous and embarrased; finally she said:

"Please Miss, I'd like two packages of bath room stationary."

Legion Auxiliary Semi-Social Meeting Held Nov. 16th

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit 227, held their semi-social meeting of the month, Thursday, Nov. 16th, at the Legion home. Reva Walton, Rehabilitation chairman, reported the gifts for the Veteran's Gift Shop had been purchased and were already in the mail.

Jean Peterson, Membership chairman, reported 51 paid members to date and ask that all members pay their dues as soon as possible as 75 percent of our quota should have been in by Nov. 25. If you haven't already paid your 1950-51 dues get them to Jean at once.

Funds are coming in fine for the Community Christmas program and the girls are working hard on this program. Reva Walton suggested that as soon as the Christmas season is over we will start making quil tops again as they are badly needed. President Edna Wilkins and Mary Lou Breakey, Com. Service Chairman, gave a report on the Legion meeting they attended recently and said the boys are anxious to do all they can to assist the Auxiliary with their Christmas program and a joint committee will be appointed to work together. LaVera Ingalls was appointed Memorial Scholarship Chairman.

The Legion Mid-Winter Conference will be held in Grand Rapids Dec. 2 and 3. Florence Stucker will attend the Conference.

Plans will soon be under way for a supper in December, put on by the Auxiliary. Mary Hayes was appointed chairman, with Martha Kamradt, Reva Walton and Gusta Hayes to assist her. The date and details will be announced later.

The meeting was adjourned for the birthday party. As there were none of the members whose birthdays were in Nov. present, each gift was numbered and distributed among those present. The candles on the birthday cake, baked by Martha Kamradt, furnished most of the light for the preparation of the lunch as the lights went out about that time which added to the fun of the evening, making coffee and setting the table by candlelight. It seems like all the girls were on diets and were reluctant to eat cake until the coin was discovered by Mrs. George Griffen, Jr., of Farmington, Mich., who was a guest of Ann Kamradt, so Ann graciously volunteered to furnish the cake for the Dec. birthday party. Sandwiches and coffee completed the delightful lunch. If you haven't been attending these semi-social meeting nights you are missing a lot of fun so be sure and come next month.

The toys which all members brought for the boxes for children who have had polio were turned over to the Child Welfare Chairman Eldeva Gokee, as well as the cash collected for this project. We all hope these small gifts brighten the lonely hours of those little shut-ins.

Next Auxiliary meeting will be Thursday, Dec. 7th, 8 o'clock at the Legion home.

SHERMAN'S

The School Bell...

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Stokes

All 29 of us were back in school on Tuesday after many of us had been sick and absent.

We are getting ready for Christmas.

We are learning Christmas songs.

We are going to make something for Mother and Father.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Brooks

We had a nice Thanksgiving party when the three first grades joined together in Mrs. Bowerman's room on Wednesday afternoon.

Most of our absentees have returned to school. The only ones who have had perfect attendance for this six weeks period are: Bobby Goebel, Ila Ingalls, Michael McWatters and Mary Lou Murray.

We have taken down all of our November decorations and are ready to start dressing the room for December.

Our room has been assigned the Nativity Scene in the coming Christmas program.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Bowerman

Phillip Scott is a new member in our room. Phillip has been attending school in Pontiac.

Chris Schroeder is absent this week, the first he has missed since he started in kindergarten.

Before we went to the assembly last week we had fun making chocolate fudge. In the afternoon we were glad to share our Thanksgiving party with our friends in Mrs. Brooks' and Mrs. Stokes' first grades. We sang Thanksgiving songs, then made turkeys with marshmallows and gumdrops.

We are busy preparing our part for the Christmas program. We are going to dramatize the German custom of church going at Christmas time.

During our language period we heard the story of the First Christmas from the Bible. Then we made plans for decorating our room to illustrate this story.

SECOND Grade—Agnes Johnston

We are learning to tell time. It wll be fun to be able to know by the clock what time to go to school, when it's lunch time and, of course, when it's our bed time.

We are talking about how we can be kind to the birds in the winter time. We were all going to make sure, especially on Thanksgiving day, that they had bread crumbs, or any other food birds eat. With so much snow on the ground, we know the birds will find it difficult to get food to eat.

We are busy making covers for our second spelling booklet. This booklet should contain six perfect spelling lessons. We will take them home, with our report cards, to our mothers.

Last Wednesday afternoon Judith Gokee's mother treated us to beautifully decorated turkey-shaped cookies. This was a lovely surprise. Virginia Donaldson also treated us to candy.

This week we are getting started on the grade school Christmas pageant. We are going to be the Chinese children in the program. All those who are not the Chinese children will help sing Christmas carols. We will all have some part in the program.

We chose new room helpers Monday.

SECOND Grade — Mrs. Seiler

Mrs. Seiler has been reading us a book, "The Pilgrims".

We have many children absent with colds.

Ronnie Sulak was in Munson Hospital with polio. We made get-well cards and sent them to him. We are glad he is back at school this week.

Our new singing game that we like to play is "Skip to My Lou".

Poky, our pet turtle, disappeared one day. We looked for him everywhere. Someone forgot to put him back in his bowl and he walked away. One week later, after we'd given up looking for him, Connie Bennett found him in the hall.

Mrs. Seiler left Wednesday morning with Mr. Seiler and Parker for a visit with Galen's family in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Downing taught us in Mrs. Seiler's absence.

Each pupil is writing a story called "My Story".

Some are making Christmas presents.

All of the children are back in school today.

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Snyder

We still have many absent from our room. Today twelve stayed out for various reasons. Karen Jackson is in Munson Hospital for an operation. Walter Moore is also staying in Traverse City for awhile. We plan to write letters to them this week.

The heavy snowfall has brought reports of sliding, skiing and other winter fun.

We started practicing songs for the Christmas program. We are planning decorations for our room for December.

For a review in geography we are coloring maps of the United States, putting in the names of states and drawing the Lincoln Highway from New York to San-Francisco.

Dick Eichler visited our room today. He is four years old.

SIXTH Grade — Mr. Malone

Our class is going to practice for the Christmas program. We are not gong to take part in the play but we will take part in singing Christmas carols.

Karen Bradshaw went to Ludington for Thanksgiving and visited her grandmother and grandfather.

Steve Brennan went to Lansing and Battle Creek. He stayed in Lansing two days and in Battle Creek two days.

Several girls and boys in our room went to the gymnasium to see some historical things about the United States.

Judy Lilak and Carol Klooster are making a model of a French castle.

Ralph Shepard, Reporter.

Rotary Club Notes

There were not quite so many empty chairs at Rotary this week as some of the fellows were back from the deer trails, and there were three visitors—two from Traverse City and one from Grand Rapids. No one insulted Percy Penfold by asking if he got his buck—they just asked how many points on the deer's forehead. Percy has been plenty busy since returning from camp, assisting in cleaning up the mess caused by the fire at the Creamery. The excuses of those who did not fill their licenses are too fantastic to repeat without varification.

The program was in charge of William Sloan, who had as the speaker, Mr. Ralph Collins of Traverse City.

Mr. Collins was manager of the United Nations Headquarters in Prague, Czechoslovakia, during the World War, one of the principle duties of the office being assisting Displaced Persons. Mr. Collins was well acquainted with both Mr. Edward Benness and Mr. Thomas Masaryk who went to London and organized the Government in Exile for their native land. He very interestingly described the methods used by the Russians in taking over the political, economical and industrial resources of the country, which included the entire state of Ukraine (the wheat granary of Europe), the police system, the dairy, the leather anr machine tool industries. The Chezks were allowed one pint of milk a week and one shoe ration per year, the latter being a grass sandel.

Mr. Collins said that Communism as practiced by the Russians in Czechoslovakia was only an "Economic Hoax." That no more then ten percent of the people were Communists, that Russians put their program into operation without the aid of military fore, but by infiltration and intrique.

WILSON GRANGE DANCE

There will be a dance at the Wilson Grange Hall, Saturday, Dec. 2nd. We were sorry to have to postpone the dance last Saturday evening but the roads were too bad to get the music here.

Com. Service Program of Legion Auxiliary Again Under Way

The Community Service Program of the American Legion Auxiliary has again gotten under way and are now forming their plans for a bigger and better Christmas for everyone this year. First of all, however, a lot of work must be done in the City Building on the clothing. Several of the members have been spending their time giving the room a general house cleaning and, although we are far from finished, we have already started to get things in shape. We urgently need children's clothing and anyone who has dresses, coats, pants, underwear or snowsuits that no longer fit their own children, will you please bring them down to the room so that some other youngster might go to school suitable dressed. With the colder weather coming upon us, the things we do have will soon be taken up, and therefore it is necessary that we have more on hand. The Community room is open every Wednesday and Friday afternoon from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m.

We again plan to have our Toy Project this year for Christmas, so if everyone will begin looking over their children's toys and bring down those that can be used it will go a long way to help make this a happy day for a child. We are purchasing new dolls this year to dress and plans for making money are already being organized. This will be used entirely to buy new toys for the children. We have a lot of work ahead of us, but if everyone will pitch in and make this the biggest and best Christmas of all, I'm sure the effort will be well worth it.

Bowling News

The E. J. Canning Co. bowlers set the pace in the Merchants league with their 2538 series which included games of 826-882-830. Their opponents, the Monarch Finer Foods, didn't come close in any of their games. The 4 point win for the local canners put them out in front as Dip's Tavern lost all 4 points to the Anchorage. Burl Braman again led the Canning Co. team with a 563 series which included a 216 middle game. The best effort for the Monarchs was Ike Rood's 457.

St. Joseph won two games from Sommerville's Grocery but the 884 game bowled by Sommerville's gave them enough pins over St. Joseph to take total and extra point. Jim Lilak was high for the Saints while Spin Cihak had 530, tops for the Grocers. Jim's total was 523. Spin had a 204 game on his second effort as he finished with seven strikes in a row. Both major parties eye the Michigan recount anxiously. The 18,000 invalid ballots they expect to find are causing quakes the length of the state. Kelly asks for a "fair, gentlemanly and proper recount". Williams displays usual confidence. Other party leaders don't.

Says the Michigan highway department: "Eighty percent of the accidents are caused due to the human element, and how can the state or its agencies control that?" In the hospital at the time suffering auto crash injuries were Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler and Elmer Hanna, and administrative aide.

College presidents look grim over future enrollments. Head of one of the state's largest says next year he expects no draft eligible students—a return to all co-ed campus—or virtually so.

Some inactive reservists are being called ahead of the activities. In a wire to Governor Williams, Frank Pace, secretary of the army, explains it as an attempt to keep active units intact for possible future use.

In Washington plans are underfoot to extend Michigan's national guard summer training to three weeks. Local commanders fear fewer turnouts for camp, since many might not be able to leave civilian jobs that long.

But the dogs are safe. There are no plans to draft any more for the K-9 corps. Down, fido!

Fort Custer has been turned down for the proposed air academy. But air force officials surprised the governor and the entire state by putting two other Michigan locations among the final 25 sites from which the selection will be made. Named were: Waterloo recreation area near Chelsea, and Kensington recreation area, near Brgihton.

Tourist promoters are rampaging for more state money to advertise Michigan's vacation business. The state is third in vacation visitors, 13th in amount of appropriation. They are asking $229,000. Last year they received $225,000.

Michigan's polio rate is sixth in the nation with 1,702 cases—27 per 100,000 population. Iowa leads with a case rate of 47.

The state department of health has made what is considered a smart move by applying for a patent on a new antibiotic—a development on the order of penicillin and streptomcin. "Public money financed the research," says Dr. Albert Heustis, commissioner, "why shouldn't financial benefits come back to the people of Michigan?"

The health department may lose 50 employees if $153,000 in federal funds is not supplemented by additional appropriations. The slash results from a federal policy of cutting non-defense expenditures.

Three more pilot blood typing programs aimed at living blood banks are scheduled for Birmingham, Ypsilanti and Alma. Out of this may come an overall plan to type the entire state.

Michigan hospital service complains that competition from private insurance companies is ruining the Blue Cross hospitalization plan. Says Charles L. Platts, Detroit Association of Insurance Agents: "MHS is charging insurance companies with making policies too attractive for Blue Cross to compete."

For 10 years the C. I. O. has wooed men of the Great Lakes fleet. Joseph (Big Joe) Curran, president of the C. I. O.'s national maritime union says, "We flopped." Pay for deckhands runs as high as $225 monthly plus lodging and food—and good food. They don't need help!

Bids have been let for three transfer bridges at the straits. Will this ease the nasty problem of crossing to St. Ignace next summer and next deer season?

Sen. Elmer Porter (R-Blissfield) insists in fighting the state department of administration—the Sigler-created "housekeeping agency". He has a bill to be presented which would abolish the agency.

One of the gubernatorial campaign issues in Michigan was the increase in Michigan Bell Telephone Company rates, granted last June by the Public Service Commission in a two-to-one vote. Governor Williams pledged appointment of a commissioner in 1951 who would vote against higher telephone rates. Outcome of the Williams-Kelly recount may have an important bearing on another rate increase, soon to be requested by Michigan Bell as a result of new pay boosts for employees.
